CITY PROFILE

FRESNO, CALIFORNIA

- Strong Rental Market: Fresno has a robust rental market with a high demand for affordable housing. The city has a growing population, which creates a consistent pool of potential tenants for multifamily properties. This demand can lead to lower vacancy rates and potentially higher rental income.
- Positive Economic Growth: Fresno has experienced steady economic growth in recent years. The city serves as an agricultural hub, with a diverse economy that includes healthcare, education, manufacturing, and logistics. The presence of multiple industries contributes to job creation and stability, providing a solid foundation for a healthy rental market.
- Central Location: Fresno's central location within California is advantageous. It is situated in the heart of the state, making it a transportation hub and facilitating easy access to major markets. The city is intersected by major highways and has an international airport, enhancing its connectivity and potential for attracting renters.
- Development and Revitalization: Fresno has been undergoing revitalization efforts, particularly in its downtown area. These initiatives aim to improve infrastructure, attract businesses, and enhance the overall appeal of the city. Such development projects can positively impact property values and attract more residents, making it an opportune time to invest in multifamily assets.
- Potential for Appreciation: While past performance is not indicative of future results, Fresno has shown a history of property value appreciation. As the city continues to grow and develop, there is potential for multifamily properties to appreciate in value over time, providing investors with potential capital gains.

MARKET OVERVIEW

2041-2069 E Saginaw Way is located in the Mclane submarket in Fresno, CA. Would consider this area to be in a redevelopment stage. It is close to the Manchester Mall area. This plaza offers lots of entertainment including shopping and going to the movies. It also includes restaurants and fast food options. It is only 10 minutes from Fresno's largest mall- the Fashion Fair Mall which includes shopping and fine dining with an amazing ambience. It is only 6 minutes away from Fresno City College- one of the top community colleges in the nation in academics and athletics. To add on, Fresno State is only about 10 minutes away. This location is in a very central location for the city of Fresno giving it lots of potential to grow and increase its value
